FIVE LOSE LIVES IN PLANE COLLISION OVER SEATTLE

Italy Declares For Limited Efforts By Brussels Conference Duce Says Delegates Should Invite Direct Japan-China Talks

Britain and Others For Wider Peace Efforts By the Powers

China Warns Of World War Danger

BRUSSELS (CP and AP)—In the last few moments before adjournment of the opening session of the Nine-power Conference on the Far East, Count Luigi Aldrovani-Marescotti, Italy's chief delegate, today dropped a bomb into the placid waters of peace.

Paul Spaak, Belgian Foreign Minister who formally opened the meeting, and Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, Norman H. Davis and Yvon Delbos, heads of the British, United States and French delegations, respectively, all had urged the imperative need of a peaceful settlement, and after they declared there was not the remotest suggestion of possible sanctions against Japan and that conciliation was the first watchword, Signor Aldrovani-Marescotti declared for Italy:

"Since we are here, the only useful thing we can contemplate is to invite the two parties to establish direct contact between themselves. After that we have nothing to do."

Otherwise, the Italian delegate added, the Fascist government must formulate the fullest reservations as to the results of the conference, which could only end in platitudinous resolutions, in evidence of the powerlessness of the conference.

POSITION OF JAPAN
"In my view," declared M. Spaak, "in the view also, I believe, of all present here, the present conference should not consider itself a sort of international tribunal before which Japan should be summoned to appear and explain itself in conditions incompatible with its dignity and honor."

CHINESE HEARD
After the opening session, adjournment was made till the evening, when China's representative was heard.

Speaking for China, Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, asserted his (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

CHINA WILL FIGHT TO END Sino-Japanese Conflict May Involve Russia, Says Observer

Observer

"This is a war to the death. The Chinese are determined to oust the invader from their shores and will fight to the bitter end," said E. G. Schwarz, Orient supervisor for the great U.S. merchandising firm of Marshall Field and Company of Chicago, on reaching Victoria today aboard S.S. President Jefferson from Hongkong.

"They say the whole business is going to be over by Christmas, but I doubt it."

"It's going to last much longer than some people think, and it wouldn't be at all surprising to me if Russia entered into the picture before it is over."

Soviet Russia, Mr. Schwarz said, would have been in the Sino-Japanese scrap before now, if it were not for her fear of being attacked by Germany on her eastern frontier.

As it is she is helping China with advisers and munitions. Crossing Russia on his way to China, Mr. Schwarz noted the war preparedness that is evident in the country of the Soviets.

"I saw military activity wherever I went, and in the air they are supreme," he said.

"Manoeuvres are being carried out on a large scale. When I was on the train at Baikal I saw a large force in active training there, and this was but an instance of the manoeuvres which are in progress in all sections of the country and particularly in Siberia."

The Japanese in Manchukuo, Mr. Schwarz said, are closely watching what is going on across the Russian border.

California Man Asks Alimony

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—C. B. Clayton, 92, asked "reasonable alimony" today in a divorce suit against Mary Clayton, 77.

He asserted he has only a pension of $10 a month, while his wife has a $250 monthly income and property valued at $60,000.

The two were married at Omaha, Neb., Feb. 25, 1929, and separated March 13, 1935.

Terrorists in Clashes in Palestine

Guerilla bands of Arab snipers such as those shown above have been busy in the Holy Land recently. This picture, the first received in Victoria since the renewal of terrorism indicates how the groups carry out their raids. The British troops rounding up the guerrillas attacking Jews have been reinforced in the last couple of weeks.

DEATH CLAIMS THOS. MILLER

Well-known Local Barrister Succumbs to Stroke in Courthouse

Suffering a stroke as he was about to leave the Court House shortly before 1 today, Thomas Munroe Miller, well-known local barrister, died suddenly.

Mr. Miller had walked down the flight of stairs leading to the door of the building and was speaking casually to employees of the building when he complained of feeling ill. He was assisted to a chair by Wm. Davis, Alfred Ingle and Wm. Jones. Realizing the seriousness of his condition, one of the men telephoned Dr. F. M. Bryant who responded immediately. The doctor was unable to assist him and Mr. Miller died before he could be removed from the premises.

In 1891 the late Mr. Miller was articled to the late Hon. Mr. Justice Irving and at a later date the articles were assigned to the late Chief Justice Gordon Hunter.

Admitted to the British Columbia bar January 10, 1898, the late Mr. Miller had practiced in the city for some years before leaving for the United States, where he was engaged in the legal end of railroad work. He returned to Victoria about 1914 and became a member of the firm of Moresby, Miller, O'Reilly and Lowe. In recent years he had been in practice by himself.

The remains were removed to Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors. Arrangements will be announced later.

Mr. Miller was a son of the late Munroe Miller, well known here for years in provincial government circles.

Japanese Shells Are Celebration

SHANGHAI (AP)—One hundred and one of the Japanese shells fired today did double duty.

Japanese batteries aimed a 101-gun salute, honoring the birthday November 3, 1852, of the late Emperor Meiji, into Chinese lines.

OTTAWA (CP)—The new $100,000,000 loan of the Dominion Government was over-subscribed and the books closed at noon (9 a.m., P.S.T.) today, two hours after they had opened. The loan will be used to retire Victory Bonds redeemable on December 1.

Finance Minister Dunning said he was well satisfied with the public's reception of the loan. His departmental officials had not yet been able to ascertain the extent the issue had been oversubscribed.

LAST OF SERIES
The maturity represents the last of the tax-free bonds floated during the Great War.

The new loan comprises three maturities of 1½-year 1 per cent bonds maturing June 1, 1939, priced at 99.125, to yield approximately 1.49 per cent; seven-year bonds at 2½ per cent, priced at 98.50, to yield approximately 2.75 per cent, and 14-year bonds at 3½ per cent, priced at 99, to yield approximately 3.34 per cent.

Speeches at 14 Cents a Word

Mathematician Finds Some Queer Things About Cost of House Debates

Every word spoken in the early debates in the Legislature costs the country 14 cents.

If a man occupies an hour's time of the House at its present period of activity it costs $1.200.

Mathematicians with nothing better to do, started some elaborate calculations today. After a half-tearing session they came out with facts like these.

The opening day's amenities cost $50 a minute.

The two speeches moving and seconding the address in reply cost about $2,000 apiece.

Just a tiff of words between the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition takes $20 out of the public pocketbook.

Later in the session, when the House sits three times a day, and for 10 or 11 hours in the 24 these costs drop very quickly and the price of verbiage is much lower. Just now, however, when things are moving slowly debating is expensive.

Saanich Boy Saves Brother

Howard Shemilt, 10, Extinguishes Flaming Clothes of Three-year-old Child.

A 10-year-old Saanich boy is the hero of his district for the manner in which, by quick thinking and courage, he saved his three-year-old brother from serious injuries and possible death by burning last Sunday morning.

The boy is Howard Shemilt Jr., known to his friends as Bud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. Shemilt, of 3255 Harriett Road. Howard and his brother, Victor, were at play in their garden, and Howard was trying to fan a smoldering bonfire into flames. His young brother seized a piece of half-lighted paper in his hand and ran across the garden. The paper burst into flames and set fire to the overalls he was wearing.

Young Howard, with great presence of mind, ran to his brother, seized him, threw him to the ground and smothered the flames which had already burned the child's leg from the ankle almost to the hip.

The child was rushed by his parents to a downtown drug store where first aid was administered.

Hospitals in Lerida Area of Spain Filled With Injured Loyalists

MADRID (AP)—Rescue squads searched bomb-shattered buildings of the Catalan city Lerida today for additional victims of an insurgent air raid already reported by the government to have taken 125 lives. Hospitals were filled with injured men, women and children.

More than 50 bodies of children had been removed from a primary school which was wrecked over their heads near closing time Tuesday when nine tri-motored planes roared in from the west and dumped their explosives.

A government communique called the raid a "vicious and criminal attack on a civilian population." After the raiders had dropped their bombs, the statement charged, they flew low over the city and machine-gunned many panic-stricken residents in the streets.

Medical aid was sent to Lerida from Barcelona, the Catalan capital, about 75 miles away.

The planes that bombed Lerida were guided to their mark by the tower of the 12th century cathedral of San Lorenzo. Lerida, with a population of about 50,000, lies west of Barcelona and about 80 miles east of the Aragon line. Its history dates back to the sixth century.

Poppies Bought By Premier King

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King, through a secretary, today bought a personal poppy wreath at poppy headquarters here. He also purchased a poppy and maple leaf to wear in his lapel on Armistice Day, and a large poppy to adorn his automobile.

LIQUOR BILL STILL RISING

Control Board Shows Gain of $250,000 in Six-months' Profits

British Columbians this year are consuming hard liquors, wines and beer at the rate of $1,500,000 a month, about 15 per cent more than last year, it is estimated on six months' liquor control board figures tabled in the Legislature yesterday by Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer.

The liquor board's receipts for the period ending September 30 were $6,959,357, against $6,048,991 in the corresponding period of 1936.

This does not represent the whole of the public's liquor bill. The rest is made up by the difference between the wholesale and retail price of beer in parlors. At a rough estimate the total public spending on liquor of all kinds was $9,000,000.

The liquor board reported a profit of $1,753,745 on its operations for the six months, an increase of $252,394 over last year. At the present rate of sales the public's liquor bill for 1937-38 will run over $18,000,000 not far short of the $20,000,000 record of 1929.

The greater share of the liquor money goes for beer. The liquor board sales were divided as follows: spirits $3,181,607, beer $3,175,069, B.C. wines $240,936, Australian and South African wines $82,643, other liquors $279,101.

The figure given includes only the wholesale price on beer sold in parlors. Adding the extra for the retail price gives a total of close to $5,000,000 spent on beer, bottled and by the glass.

Health Plan Disappointing

Hospital Delegates Regret Failure of Insurance; Solution Foreseen

Members of the B.C. Hospital Association share with Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, what they feel must be a great disappointment in the failure to establish health insurance in this province. E. W. Neel, Duncan, president, told the association convention which opened this morning in the Empress Hotel.

At the time of last year's convention it had been felt that health insurance would be a fact in British Columbia by the time of the 1937 convention, Mr. Neel said.

The hospitals had hoped that health insurance would largely solve the financial problems of hospitals and also give the wage earners in the lower brackets an opportunity to meet sickness costs, he said.

An attempt to overcome these difficulties, however, had met with success in Kamloops and Port Alberni, where group hospitalization had been instituted, he said.

In Kamloops the hospital had been able to meet all its obligations, and create a financial reserve by this plan, Mr. Neel said.

He suggested the members should follow closely the convention deliberations on group hospitalization.

PARACHUTES SAVE TWO U.S. NAVY MEN

Lieutenant, Radio Operator and Three Others in Big Amphibian Killed in Collision With Smaller Plane Over Boeing Field; Accident Occurs During Gunnery Practice at Sound City

At Conference

Norman H. Davis, United States delegate to the Nine-Power discussions, who spoke at today's opening session in Brussels, is shown, seated, right above, with two of his advisers—Dr. S. K. Hornbeck, seated left, and Charles E. Bohlen, standing, secretary of the delegation.

SEATTLE (AP)—Five United States Navy fliers were killed when their amphibian collided with a smaller navy plane in midair over the southern end of Boeing Field, the county airport. The two enlisted men in the second plane bailed out and floated down with parachutes.

The Sand Point naval air station reported the planes were in gunnery practice when they collided.

As the parachutes came down, an ambulance and airport officials and workers rushed to the scene. J. S. Moore, Bureau of Air Commerce inspector, who was on the field at the time, also immediately went to the wreck.

The naval air station, a unit of the 13th Naval District, listed the dead as:

Lieut. Henry B. Twohy, Spokane, Wash.

Aviation Cadet K. F. Schmidt, Minnesota, city undetermined.

Aviation Cadet Kenneth Rhuddy, Seattle.

Machinist's Mate M. McCroddan, Seattle.

The two who landed alive were listed as Aviation Chief Machinist's Mate J. D. Goessell and Seaman W. S. Bowman, home addresses undetermined.

Persons at and near the field who witnessed the crash said they could see it was from the smaller plane the parachutes came.

La Guardia Wins By 454,425 Votes

New York's Fusion Mayor Makes Records in Defeating Tammany's J. T. Mahoney

NEW YORK (AP)—Fiorello H. La Guardia has been re-elected mayor of New York in a decisive victory that carried virtually his entire ticket with him.

He defeated Jeremiah T. Mahoney, Tammany Democrat, in Tuesday's election by a plurality of 454,425.

Final returns showed: La Guardia, 1,344,016; Jeremiah T. Mahoney, 889,591. La Guardia, sponsored, Tammany-baiting Special Rackets Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey defeated Tammany's Assistant District Attorney Harold W. Hastings for the office of district attorney of New York County (Manhattan) by 108,823 votes. The total vote was Dewey, 325,747; Hastings, 216,924.

The election was one of the most orderly in the city's history. Mayor La Guardia, Police Commissioner Valentine and Valentine's deputies personally supervised 19,000 policemen, who maintained order.

The city had its first experiment with the proportional representation ("P.R.") system of marking preferences for city council men on paper ballots in addition to the voting tabulation for other candidates. "P.R." (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

PEACE RUMORS IN SHANGHAI

Unverified Reports Heard As Neutrality For Nantao Area Urged

SHANGHAI (AP)—Negotiations were under way Wednesday to move Shanghai warfare away from the fringes of the French Concession, where many foreigners make their homes.

A Japanese spokesman told of the conversations to neutralize the Nantao area, just south of the concession, of a neutral power had approached the Japanese with a plan designed to avoid further endangering of foreign and Chinese non-combatants.

Coincidentally, foreign military observers reported Chinese lines extending west from the International Settlement were thinning, and added that they would not be surprised if the Chinese should withdraw within a few days from the area immediately around Shanghai. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Canada's Revenue Steadily Growing

Customs and Excise For Seven Months Reported at $191,033,109

OTTAWA (CP)—Customs and excise collections are showing big increases over last year, it was disclosed today in figures released by the National Revenue Department.

Net receipts in the first seven months of the fiscal year, April 1 to October 31, were $191,033,109, compared with $152,727,008 for the same months last year, an increase of $36,306,010.

The largest gains were made in excise tax receipts, which jumped from $79,916,054 to $101,590,323, a net increase of $21,674,269.

Other net collections were: Customs duties $56,852,805, increase of $10,149,253; excise duties $32,107,597, increase $4,428,331; sundry collections $437,383, increase $59,248.

Chest Over Half Way In Two Days of Drive

Welfare Federation Has Received $40,770 From 2,000 Subscribers

The Community Chest has passed well over the halfway mark in its drive to raise $72,000 for 28 welfare organizations in the Greater Victoria area.

In two days of its concerted campaign it has collected $40,077, leaving five days to obtain the remaining $32,000.

Campaign directors were delighted at the reception which their appeal had received. They pointed out that almost 2,000 people had subscribed, more than in any other previous drive.

Over half of these subscriptions were obtained by women canvassers, who again led the way. C division, which is their division, has almost reached its objective of $6,000 already. Last night's returns showed that it had obtained $5,333.05 from 1,318 people.

R. H. B. Ker, joint campaign manager, who was back at headquarters this morning after a brief visit to Vancouver, said that it was the women who saved the (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Notes of the Legislature

Tomorrow: Throne Speech debate continues; speakers, R. W. Bruhn, Independent, Salmon Arm; Dr. J. Lyle Telford, C.C.F., Vancouver East.

Yesterday's speakers: R. H. Carson, Liberal, Kamloops; Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver; Mark M. Connelly, Liberal, Omineca; C. H. Tupper, Liberal, Similkameen.

Galleries are looking for some excitement tomorrow when the two big guns of the Opposition side are scheduled to enter the debate.

It will be a medical day as well as an opposition day, because both are medical. Rumor says Dr. Telford expects to occupy at least two hours with his remarks.

There are but 10 bald heads in the new House, and all are on the government side, four of them in the cabinet. Dr. Telford's fine shock of grey hair is easily the most notable on the left hand benches and makes a fine contrast with the sleek black locks of his colleague, Harold Winch.

Mrs. Steeves twitted the Conservatives that they were unfamiliar with their textbooks in not recognizing that Conservatives today believe in paternalism in government. She was referring to Herbert Anscomb's demand for less government interference in business.

J. W. Ruggles, chairman of A division, which is the special gifts branch, reported that he had received $30,881 from 161 subscribers. His objective is $53,000.

From 231 businesses and stores B division received $2,167.25, over a third of its objective.

D division, which has the industrial payroll as its field, was the lowest, only $842.10 being reported from 213 subscribers. From 58 subscribers in the public services, $854.30 was received by E division.

Liberal government, under Premier Pattullo, were extended in the House yesterday by R. H. Carson, Liberal, Kamloops, who reminded the Legislature it was four years to the day that the government had been elected to office—November 2, 1933.

Two of Victoria's aldermanic board, and a former mayor of the city, serve on the Legislative Assembly's standing committee for municipal matters. Members of this committee are Messrs. Hunter, Straith, Anscomb, Burns, Putnam, Carson, Gillis, Tupper, Forester, Shepherd, Eyres, Heninger, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Steeves.

Alderman W. T. Straith, Liberal, Victoria, attending his first session, is piloting two private bills through the House. One is for the incorporation of the Lumbermen's Fidelity Life Assurance Co. Ltd., and the other to enable the Crow's Nest Pass Electric Light and Power Co. Ltd. to reduce its capital.

Notice was given today of three government bills to be introduced Thursday by Attorney-General Wismer. One will make registration of guests compulsory in auto camps and hotels in unorganized territory, the same as now applies in organized municipalities. Another will include poultry in goods coming under the Sales on Consignment Act. The third is a minor amendment to the Jury Act.

The canvassers seemed to have been received more hospitably from the poor than from the rich. A number of people in comfortable circumstances had treated canvassers discourteously, Mr. Winslow said.

"They should remember that these people are volunteer workers giving up much of their time to this charitable work," the board chairman said. "Some of the women have as many as 160 homes to call on."

country would not be contributing to the cause of international law, and order if she accepted peace with Japan "at any price."

DUTY TO CONSULT
At the opening session Mr. Eden, Mr. Davis and M. Delbos alike recognized that the Nine-power Treaty imposed on the signatories the duty to consult together on methods to end the hostilities. All regretted the absence of Japan.

What, Signor Aldrovani-Marescotti questioned, would be the use of sending commissions to China to investigate who had fired the first shot. The difficulty of that method had been demonstrated in Manchuria and the Chaco region.

With one of the parties to the dispute not represented at the conference, full, frank discussion "has no meaning except between ourselves and for ourselves." It would not end the conflict.

BY PEACEFUL MEANS
Mr. Davis, head of the United States delegation, who spoke soon after the conference had unanimously chosen M. Spaak as its president, exhorted Japan and China to settle their conflict "by peaceful processes."

EDEN SPEAKS
Foreign Secretary Eden, speaking in turn, said Great Britain was "in full agreement with every word" Mr. Davis had said. "He so well defined our task and the conditions in which our work is to be carried out that I have little to add," Mr. Eden said.

M. Delbos too regarded the Far East conflict as imposing on all the imperative duty to work for a peaceful solution.

The conference adjourned till the evening.

WORLD WAR
Addressing the delegates Dr. Wellington Koo, China's spokesman, predicted: "If Japanese aggression in the Far East is not checked and faith in the pledged word is not restored, then there is every danger Japanese forces will overrun the boundaries of China and throw the world into a general war from which no important power will long be able to keep aloof."

Dr. Koo, stating his country's position in the Far Eastern war, read a 14-page prepared speech in which he sought to show the Japanese were conducting the "most utterly ruthless methods of warfare" the civilized world has ever seen.

PEACE RUMORS
Various peace rumors were circulating, apparently based mainly on the presumed readiness of both sides to exclude part of Nantao as a non-military zone for the ever-rising numbers of war refugees.

One of the unverified rumors, however, began in Chinese reports that Li Shi-lou, chairman of the newly-formed Chahar-Hopeh Economic Commission, was in Nanking with a proposal for a semi-autonomous government in the five north China provinces. It was said to be advocating a government named by the Chinese central government with Japanese approval.

tabulation began today and may take some time to complete.

CONTROLS BOARD
Swept into office with the mayor, who ran on a Republican, Fusion, American Labor Party ticket, were La Guardia candidates for controller, president of the city council and all but one of the city's five borough presidents, giving the mayor control of the board of estimate, the city's home rule upper house.

The sweep gives La Guardia 15 of the 16 board of estimates votes.

La Guardia is the first anti-Tammany mayor in the city's history since post-revolutionary times to be re-elected. He carried all of New York's five boroughs.

RECORD VOTE
The total vote was the highest ever cast in a purely local election—2,233,607—and La Guardia's vote was the largest ever given a mayoral candidate in New York.

The American Labor Party vote for La Guardia totaled 482,459, and the Republican total for him 672,823.

DETROIT (AP)—The committee for Industrial Organization failed by nearly 107,000 votes in its avowed attempt to "seize the reins of government" in Detroit's municipal election, Tuesday.

Final returns today showed Richard W. Reading, "Conservative" candidate for mayor, led Patrick H. O'Brien, the C.I.O. standard bearer, by 106,907 votes, while the top man of five C.I.O. candidates for the city council fell 23,000 votes short of election.

Reading, who had the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor, received 260,957 votes. O'Brien, 69-year-old former state attorney-general, received 154,050.

A WORD

On the basis of a six-weeks session, five days a week, this amounts to $4,000 a day. This week the House is meeting every afternoon to do little than hear two or three speakers in the debate. That is why it comes so high.

For instance, on the above figures, here is what some of the speeches of the last week have cost the country: Herbert Anscomb, Victoria, $900; Alderman J. D. Hunter, Victoria, $700; Harold Winch, Vancouver East, $1,200; Mrs. Paul Smith, Vancouver-Burrard, $800; C. H. Tupper, Similkameen, $500; Mark M. Connelly, Omineca, $300; Mrs. D. G. Steeves, North Vancouver, $850.

As the House progresses and the talking becomes more furious, costs will drop to around one or two cents a word. Speaking becomes much cheaper. A member can make a half-hour's talk then at a cost of about $40.

Of course, when one stops to consider that the members must decide on the spending of some $27,000,000 next year, the talk may be cheap at the price. Anyway, it is an interesting topic if the basis for calculation is worth anything at all.

Gordon Funeral Attended By Many

WINNIPEG (CP) — Hundreds of men and women of all ages and circumstances crowded into St. Stephen's-Broadway United Church here Tuesday paid their last tribute to the late Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon. Known by his pen-name of Ralph Connor, the 77-year-old minister and author died last Sunday.

Rev. G. A. Woodside, minister of St. Stephen's-Broadway since Dr. Gordon retired as its minister in 1924, conducted the funeral service with assistance of Rev. E. Guthrie Perry of Manitoba College and Rev. A. B. Baird, pioneer prairie missionary.

Roads only 18 feet wide are so narrow that passing cars often drive on the road shoulders, so candid camera road studies show.

Liberal member in the Provincial Legislature for South Okanagan, was born on the Baraora tea estate at South Sylhet, India, in 1890 and came to Canada in 1911, arriving in British Columbia the following year. He is married, his wife being the former Miss Joyce Harvey of Victoria, and they have a son and a daughter. In recent years they have been wintering in Victoria. Capt. Bull says that before he received the Liberal nomination last May he had only attended five political meetings.

Says Interior Wants Tourists

W. M. Connelly Makes Plea in Legislature For Better Highway Conditions

Tourists came to British Columbia, not only to see the cities, but to enjoy the great out-of-doors. M. W. Connelly, Liberal, Omineca, told the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

He said the larger cities were never behind the interior in an effort to get better roads as a tourist drawing card. There was plenty of manpower, he said, willing and anxious to do work on the roads.

The present relief system, he said, had outlived its usefulness. If the interior could have some of the relief money added to its public works programme, there would soon be no one on relief in his constituency.

In that way, Mr. Connelly said, good citizens could be created, instead of agitators.

"We are developing a class of people, who are not Liberals, or not Conservatives, but squawkers," he said. "We should make everyone work for himself."

He made a plea for the class of people, too young to receive old-age pensions and too old to do manual labor and said the government would be well advised to look into their problems. More attention, he said, should be paid to people living on the side roads, as, in the long run, they were important to the province.

Mr. Connelly said he did not think Premier Pattullo, who had accomplished so much, would have any difficulty in taking over the Yukon, and that the Territory, instead of being a liability, would be a great asset to the province.

CALLING ALL DOGS

By ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE

new breeds While You Wait

I've told you how new breeds of dogs have been developed by crossing and recrossing different breeds, until a wholly novel type was produced. That is how Herr Dobermann experimented with two or three separate varieties and evolved the beautiful Dobermann pinscher. That is how a group of New England fanciers mixed a number of breeds together and refined their descendants into the only 100 per cent American-made dog, the Boston terrier. That is how British miners tried crossbreeding in order to produce a perfect fighting dog, with the Alford terrier as the final result. And so on through other grand breeds which started as glorified mongrels.

But now the job of turning out brand new types of dogs is in progress in a wholesale and scientific way, in a laboratory kennel specially devised for the purpose, in a New England city. Not for devising a single new sort of canine, but several new kinds, each with some special practical purpose in view. Thus, at any time, you may expect to see a half-dozen varieties you never have heard of.

The project is headed by a brilliant and far-famed biologist. I am writing to ask him for more complete details, so that some day I may tell you about them.

A Victory For Decency

THE PEOPLE OF NEW YORK AT THE polls yesterday endorsed Mayor La Guardia by giving him the largest vote ever given a mayoral candidate in that city. The total tally was the biggest ever cast in a purely local election—2,233,607, of which La Guardia collected 1,344,016, against 889,591 rolled up by his opponent, Mr. Jeremiah T. Mahoney.

La Guardia's fine public record has been built up on a mixture of political views responsive to his conception of the greatest good for the greatest number. He wears the Republican colors, yet worked hard for the re-election of President Roosevelt last year, and scored his victory yesterday over Democrat Mahoney—whose campaign was under the personal command and direction of national and New York State Democratic Chairman James A. Farley, Postmaster-General in the Roosevelt cabinet—on that record. Mr. La Guardia's main appeal to the electorate was his unflinching opposition to Tammanyism and he rests today on the knowledge that he is the first anti-Tammany Mayor in New York's history, at least, since post-revolutionary times, to be re-elected and he carried all of the city's boroughs.

La Guardia's determination to do his share with the people's support towards the elimination of grafting and the varied types of racketeering will be made more effective by the election to the post of District Attorney, over Tammany's Democratic Assistant District Attorney candidate, of Mr. Thomas E. Dewey by a majority of 108,823 in a total county (Manhattan) vote of 542,671. Dewey is special Rackets Prosecutor and the deadly foe of all those elements that have been the principal contributors to the growth of crime lists. He has the distinction, too, of being the first anti-Tammany candidate to become Manhattan's District Attorney since Mr. Charles S. Whitman, who afterward was elected Governor of New York, in 1914.

The success of these two Republicans to such important executive offices in New York County adds to rather than takes away from the record of the Democratic party throughout the country as a whole. It reflects an attitude which has no patience with narrow partisanship when it is in the balance against public decency. But Washington observers, says a dispatch from the capital, looked in vain today for any signs of a general political upheaval in the results of these off-year elections.

A victory in New York for the good of the common weal is a sign which furnishes its own commentary.

Mr. Bennett Goes Too Far

IF CONSERVATIVES, LOOKING TO THE next federal election, are expecting a new platform from Mr. Bennett, they seem to be destined to disappointment; that is, if their leader's speeches in New Westminster and Vancouver last Saturday are to be taken as any criterion. For example, Mr. Bennett had scarcely a good word to say about the Rowell Commission, or of its personnel of five members. He asked: "What value are the recommendations, the opinions of five irresponsible, in the governing of the 11,000,000 people of Canada?"

This question was directed to an audience of supposedly intelligent people who have some idea of the workings of responsible government. It is clear Mr. Bennett wanted to convey the impression that these "five irresponsible" had been chosen for the important duties to which they have been called because of their political leanings, that they would tour the country, submit their report and, through some sort of hypnotic influence, compel the government to give their findings the force of law, irrespective of whether they represent the views of the majority of the 11,000,000 Canadians or not. His attempted flights of sarcasm were indeed both clumsy and in poor taste.

The Conservative leader's reference to Mr. J. W. Dae, the guiding editorial genius of The Winnipeg Free Press and one of Canada's public men enjoying international renown, was altogether too much even for the Conservative Vancouver Daily Province. For, while agreeing with some of Mr. Bennett's criticism of the "unbalanced personnel" of the commission, it contended that the Conservative leader had "gone too far," especially in his attack on Mr. Dae, one of the Dominion's outspoken Liberals, the soul of honor and integrity. We quote:

"Mr. Dae, it is true, is a fiery Liberal partizan. But he has redeeming qualities. He is able. He is exceptionally well-informed. He is honorable. He will, within the limitations of his admitted sympathies and prejudices, do his utmost to exercise an impartial judgment on the problems the commission has been appointed to clarify.

"Who can do more? Can a member of the judiciary do more? It is to be gravely doubted if a judge, any more than a journalist, or any other person, can divest himself of his sympathies and his prejudices and enter upon the study of a controversial question with a completely open mind. If Judge Rinfret can do it, Journalist Dae can do it. There is nothing wrong with the appointment of J. W. Dae. A partizan, yes, but not more partizan than R. B. Bennett."

Sticking to Democracy

IN HIS STATEMENT ON FOREIGN POLICY which he made in the House of Commons on Monday, Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden emphatically declared that Great Britain "will join no anti-Communist and no anti-Fascist bloc," obviously intending certain nations to take due and timely notice.

No matter what the political stripe of the administration in office at Westminster, it can be regarded as a certainty it will not go into the business of importing or emulating extremist formulas which strike at the very heart of democracy, and which have as their guiding principle, the destruction of freedom of thought and the precious liberties bought with the blood of the people. Thus the very fact that no British government will recast its system of government on Fascist or Communist lines is, by the same token, Italy's, Germany's and Russia's guarantee that the statesmen in charge of affairs in Great Britain will leave the Mussolins, the Hitlers, and the Stalins in their regard severely to their own devices—as long as their policies do not fall foul of British policies.

From the beginning of the new experiments in continental Europe's governmental processes it has been Britain's fixed rule to attend strictly to her own affairs in her own way. Coupled with this rule she made it clear at the outset that much as she shuddered at the prospects of horror which the Lenin and Trotsky regime opened up, there was nothing she could try to do or would do about it. Mr. Eden's speech indicated plainly that nothing which has transpired since has fundamentally changed that attitude.

Ralph Connor

DR. C. W. GORDON, WHO DIED AT HIS Winnipeg home Sunday, rose to be moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly in 1921. It was not as a preacher, however, that he was famed, but as Ralph Connor, the author of some 21 novels, which have gained a circulation of 3,000,000 copies with a reading public in every part of the world.

As a novelist, Ralph Connor was distinctly pre-war. His greatest successes were achieved in the days when a good story, with an admixture of sentimentalism and uplifting ethics, was appreciated for itself, and before the world had assumed its modern social and psychological complexes. It was not a cynical and disillusioned public that bought more than 1,000,000 copies of "The Sky Pilot," after its publication in 1897, making it the most widely circulated Canadian book ever published, or the hundreds of thousands of copies of "The Man From Glengarry," "The Prospector" and "Glengarry School Days," and other novels inspired by the frontier or other phases of unsophisticated Canadian life. "The Sky Pilot," for instance, had no love story, no sex appeal or the other things, which taken out of a modern novel would kill it, even if it were the best book ever written. The author sought to throw some light into that blind alley where men are at a loss to understand how a good God can allow suffering. As Ralph Connor himself said in recent years, this book appeared just at the right moment to fit in with the psychology of the world. Although his appeal may find a diminished response on the part of the rising generation of today as a whole, his books still are bought and read by many who seek in our romantic past escape from the complicated present.

Notes

One man is born to earn money only by the sweat of his brow and another is born to sell him stock.

There still are old-fashioned people who spend money for beefsteak when they have not got a cigarette in the house.

Europe has just about completed restoration of buildings destroyed in the World War and apparently is aching for another conflict to tear them down again.

Production of cigarettes in both Canada and United States has gone to a new high. But not high enough to keep the chronic borrowers from being constantly "out."

One of our mountain resort golf clubs posts a sentry on the course at night to keep the wild animals away. But it does nothing about the wild "dubs" who flock there during the day.

Eleanor Holm Jarrett, the swimming star, has been so busy making movies that she cannot even file suit for divorce. Just one more proof that marriage and a career do not mix.

HUNTING A LA CARTE

From Cleveland Press
Welcome news for big game hunters is the government's offer to provide deer, elk, or buffalo—ready for the nimrod—at varying prices.

Forced by drought and grasshopper plagues, and resultant food shortages on game preserves to reduce its herds, the U.S. Biological Survey provides an opportunity for the city-bred "Buffalo Bill" to shoulder his trusty gun, ride comfortably to the happy hunting ground, bag his kill and ship it home, without any of the usual discomforts of hunting expeditions.

No more climbing mountains, breaking through miles of brush; no more vain attempts to stalk elusive deer; no more dodging bullets from high-powered rifles of other none-too-careful hunters.

Results are guaranteed. And, when the hunter points proudly to the mounted head of his prize, and relates a long tale of hardships, endless tracking, and desperate adventure, who can deny it? Not the government—which provides the quarry; the hunter's story is his own.

Across the Bay

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

FOUR YEARS

IT WAS just four years ago Tuesday that the Pattullo government was first elected to office in the ultimate depths of the depression. The anniversary passed off quietly, almost unnoted and, for the most part dully, four years and good times having remarkably jammed the House after its tempestuous youth.

To tell the truth, up to this point the Throne Speech debate has been the dullest within memory and the most respectable; as if everybody were afraid to let himself go. Only Mrs. Steeves, letting herself go in a sparkling fashion, has been able so far to put some color, some wit and human stuff into the proceedings and rescue the House from an acute premature attack of ennui.

Mrs. Steeves's speech Tuesday was not only the best heard in the 19th Legislature, but quite the best she has ever made here, and there are few more competent speakers, male or female, in the business. She has a way with her; can make her sentences fairly crackle when she wants to; can hurl womanly sarcasms at the treasury benches as sharp and penetrating as hat pins.

At the beginning, as usual, Mrs. Steeves turned on her charm, and it is pretty potent; hard for anyone to resist. But, spoken trippingly on the tongue and with light, airy gestures of the hands, her opening sallies are easy to listen to—as when she compared the wrangles of Liberals and Conservatives over past misdeeds to the antics of two little boys over a broken saucer, telling each other angrily, "You done it." Whereas, of course, they both knew in their naughty little hearts that they had both done it.

At this juvenile party, Mrs. Steeves felt like a grandmother, though she didn't look it, and mildly supposed that the party would go on for a long time yet, all very nice and cosy. For the Liberals and Conservatives, said she, were practically the same anyway and the C.C.F. the only real opposition, the only party which stood for a new principle and a new system.

TWO-GUN LADY

THESE opening pleasantries only masked cunningly the formidable artillery which Mrs. Steeves knows very well how to aim and fire. In a few minutes she was letting the government have it, two barrels at a time. With a certain gay abandon, she hurled at the government Latin phrases, quotations from eminent economists that the House had never heard of and economic facts a little too fancy for the average member. But all with an engaging smile and a friendly voice which makes it all the harder to take.

She was impartial, hammering Conservatives as well as Liberals; reminding the official opposition that while it was against government interference in business, for laissez-faire, according to its own statements, yet its federal leader, Mr. Bennett, had been highly paternalistic, as had the Conservative party in Britain. However, she supposed the provincial Conservatives had been unconscious so long in the beauty sleep which started just four years ago that they hadn't begun to catch up on their correspondence.

BUSINESS GOVERNMENT

MR. CARSON, the likeable member for Kamloops, besides being appointed deputy Speaker, had evidently been given another sign of the government's confidence. He undertook the job of answering the Conservative Party's financial criticisms and, in a friendly way, handled the subject competently and with evident conviction.

The plight of the municipalities; the condition of the provincial treasury and many other ills, Mr. Carson blamed on the former Conservative government, and congratulated British Columbia repeatedly for its rescue by the Business Man's Government—a new phrase, and one of the few not before applied officially to the ministry of Mr. Pattullo.

The accomplishments of the Business Man's Government, as recited by Mr. Carson, were impressive, but he had time to talk of his Kamloops, which doesn't lack for an enthusiastic civic booster in this House.

NO MORE SPECTACLE

OMINECA used to stand here for sensation, for excitement, for spectacle, for passionate protest. Those were the days of another member, now translated to a higher and less spectacular sphere. His successor, Mr. Connelly, said he was ready to let "the other boys" fight out the larger issues, the great economic questions, the high finance. He talked about roads and a policy of giving unemployment relief through the ordinary public works programme to make good Canadians instead of agitators out of the unemployed. The trouble, said he, is that the present relief system doesn't produce Liberals or Conservatives—even Conservatives wouldn't be so bad—but just squawkers.

He concluded with the magnificent assertion, which staggered even the Premier, that if Mr. Pattullo could weld the Liberal Party together as he had done, he could easily do the little job of assimilating the Yukon.

Mr. Tupper of Similkameen is another conscientious, plain-speaking and highly respected member. He never gets out of his depth, and, within it, knows what he is talking about. Perhaps he was slightly out of it, however, rather further out than the government would like, when he hinted broadly that the fuel commission had recommended a heavy cut in gasoline prices.

With this cut, or even without it, Mr. Tupper would raise the gasoline tax by five cents a gallon and build hard-surfaced roads. Mr. Hart permitted his poker face a momentarily startled look.

NOT TO BE SCOOPED

From Bridge River News

Weekly newspapers have their difficult problems. The editor of a weekly wished he ran a daily when he had to give his readers complete news about Grandma Smith. However, after much thought, he packed the story into this sentence: "Grandma Smith is very low as we go to press; if she dies, she will be buried Sunday."

Tory "Old Guard" In Ontario Rejects "Dictator" Leader

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD OTTAWA

AMONG the many novel views advanced with respect to the chaos and confusion now existing in the Conservative Party in Ontario, the most interesting which Parliament Hill hears is the suggestion that, by means of the stand which the discredited "Old Guard" of Ontario Conservatism has made against the dictatorship aspirations of Hon. W. Earle Rowe, ambitious "new broom" leader, true democracy may yet be restored to Canadian partyism.

The theory is receiving the careful consideration of responsible federal circles. For it is recognized that if it is true, a pressing problem which has been steadily forging to the forefront of Canadian politics in recent years may finally be approaching a solution—the problem, namely, of the absolutism which has been increasingly characterizing the post of political party leader in Canada.

The theory has been advanced in both federal and provincial fields that a strong leader means a strong party. The logical corollary of such a notion is that the function of a private member becomes reduced to giving unquestioned and unquestioning support to his chieftain. Your backbencher's chief ambition should be not to make an original or distinctive contribution to the proceedings of the House, but to exhibit the diligence and regularity in the party's interest by which cabinet posts and senatorships are won.

WITH such a system partially in operation and securing increasing acceptance each year, the time is obviously not far distant when the leader of a great Canadian party, whether he be in the federal or the provincial field, will be able to paraphrase the famous saying of King Louis of France and declare "Le parti, c'est moi"—"I am the party."

As experienced federal observers have been viewing the situation, it is from this source—the growth of absolutism surrounding political leaders—that the threat of dictatorship menaces Canada. They see the upset Mr. Rowe's dictatorship plans met from the "Old Guard" of Ontario Conservatism at the sensational Tory caucus held earlier this week in the historic Albany Club as the first challenge which political absolutism has met since it commenced to grow in Canada. That the issue has arisen in connection with provincial Conservatism in Ontario is regarded on Parliament Hill as solely the accident of circumstances. The same question, it is considered, equally awaits solution in other Canadian political fields, and the broad federal opinion is to the effect that the lesson which Mr. Rowe's attempt to be an absolute dictator over Ontario Conservatism will teach, whether it ultimately succeeds or fails, will not be lost in the wider federal arena.

THAT Mr. Rowe offered to continue to lead the Ontario Conservatives and accept one of the six seats tendered him in the Legislature is generally believed on Parliament Hill. That was the course federal Conservative circles expected him to follow. It was taken for granted that he would exact a price in return for his continued leadership and that the price would be absolute authority to dictate party policies and control party organization. That this price would be refused by the party rank-and-file was looked upon by Parliament Hill circles—in the light of the theory of absolute leadership which has been steadily developing—as wholly unthinkable.

Yet this is exactly what happened. Mr. Rowe offered his leadership on the sole condition that he be made virtual dictator—or he would return to federal politics and seek his old seat of Dufferin-Simcoe. The caucus wrestled with the question for 16 hours. The doctrine of a leader's right to absolute power was not without its influence. But in the end it told Mr. Rowe to go back to Dufferin-Simcoe. He remains nominal leader only until a provincial convention can be called to choose his successor.

ACTUALLY, of course, the stand which the caucus took was not dictated by any direct interest in the restoration of democracy to Canadian partyism. The point was simply that Mr. Rowe was out to purge the party of the much-maligned and probably discredited "Old Guard," which has been blamed for the major character of the defeat sustained in the recent election. The "Old Guard" simply fought a battle of self-preservation. But the fact that they won for themselves is regarded on Parliament Hill as less significant than the fact that they struck a blow, even though they may have done so unwittingly, in the cause of democratic partyism, which may be felt far beyond the provincial field.

On the assumption that Mr. Rowe may still hope for the sup-

MEN LOVE

PEPPY GIRLS

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross and lifeless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls who are full of pep.

For three generations our woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three or four years of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "Smiling Through."

Boy Triplets Are Named A, B and C

MONTREAL (CP)—There'll be a meeting of tremendous importance at Mrs. Mary Brotman's hospital bedside tonight.

Three weeks ago Mama Brotman gave birth to triplets, three bouncing lads, whose predicted arrival created Canadian medical history. For the nonce, they were tagged A, B and C.

Then came time for them to receive designations other than alphabetical. B was named Aaron after the father of the husband—John Brotman, and A was named Nathan, after Mrs. Brotman's father.

"And what will you call C?" Mrs. Brotman was asked last night.

Mama admitted she and papa had been stumped. C couldn't go on without a name, so they decided to meet tonight and choose a name for C.

The triplets, whose birth was predicted by Dr. Max Wiseman, and confirmed by X-ray, probably will be strong enough to go home at the end of the week.

Well-known Couple Marry

Miss Estelle Rodman Bride Today Of
Mr. G. N. Mowat

At the Church of Our Lord this afternoon at 2, Rev. A. de B. Owen united in matrimony Estelle Rodman, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Rodman of Granville Avenue, Saanich, and Mr. George N. (Rebel) Mowat of Victoria.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore an attractive afternoon frock of dark blue chiffon velvet, featuring a high collar, and the sleeves were shirred into the shoulder and tapered to the elbow to the tight cuffs. Two brilliant and sapphire clips adorned the bodice, and the skirt was fashioned in swing style. Her halo hat was of velvet to match, with nose veil, while to complete her ensemble she carried a shower bouquet of Talsman roses.

Miss Mary Alexis, as bridesmaid, wore a two-piece dress of dark brown crepe with a blouse of beige satin and a velvet turban in rust coloring, and her bouquet was composed of bronze chrysanthemums.

Mr. James Robertson was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. T. B. Macdonald, P. Fitzsimons and W. Cox.

Following the marriage service a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Langley, 1224 Caledonia Avenue, where the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Rodman, wearing navy blue silk crepe trimmed with navy blue and gold embroidery, a navy blue felt hat and a corsage of yellow rosebuds, and by Mrs. Mowat Sr. in black velvet with black coat with pointed fox collar and a New York model hat in black, and a corsage bouquet of Talsman roses. For the occasion, Mrs. Langley wore a dress of old rose wool crepe with black velvet hat and a corsage of Talsman rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Mowat left on the afternoon boat for Seattle on their way to Portland, and on their return to Victoria will make their home on Tillicum Road. For traveling the bride donned a grey velvet coat with fox collar.

Games Party Nets $210 For Fund

Gonzales Chapter To Send Clothes To Settlers

The handsome sum of $210 was realized from the successful games evening held at the Empress Hotel recently by Gonzales Chapter L.O.D.E. It was announced at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the chapter at headquarters, Mrs. A. N. Mowat, the regent, presided.

The chapter voted $100 to its hospital fund and it was decided to renew the chintz in the men's sunroom at the Jubilee Hospital. $15 was also voted to the Mary Croft Memorial fund, and $6 to buy a poppy wreath to place on the Cenotaph on Armistice Day.

A request was made for clothing to be sent to needy settlers in the Peace River, such gifts to be left at the home of Mrs. Curtis Sampson not later than Friday of this week. Mrs. W. C. Nichol kindly offered to pay for the transportation of the parcels to Peace River.

Many garments were received at the shower held yesterday for child welfare.

The following new members were proposed: Mrs. Richmond, the Hon. Mrs. F. G. Hood, Miss Hamber and Mrs. Thornton Fell. Before the business, the members stood in silent tribute to the memory of the late Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie.

Women Score In Election Fights

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two comely western Pennsylvania widows, whose Republican husbands died while serving as county treasurers and were replaced by appointed Democrats, had their inning today.

Returns from Tuesday's elections showed that Mrs. Ralph B. Brown of Meadville and Mrs. Neva S. Longridge of Somerset, were elected to four-year terms as treasurers of Crawford and Somerset counties respectively.

And in each case they defeated the men appointed by Governor George H. Earle to take their husbands' positions.

Mrs. Brown paced her party's ticket in Crawford county in beating Malcolm Wiser almost by a two-to-one margin and Mrs. Longridge led Richard Krissinger, appointed lately, three to two.

A third woman, a blond, defeated her husband for tax collector of Franklin township, Beaver county. She was Mrs. D. A. Stamin, a Democrat. Her husband was the Republican nominee.

Up in Massachusetts, however, the women were set back, for Mrs. Alice D. Burke failed in her effort to become the first feminine mayor in the state. She lost to Raymond H. Cowing in Westfield's mayoralty.

92 YEARS OLD-AND FIT AS A FIDDLE

Takes Kruschen Every Morning

"I feel in duty bound," writes Mrs. A. J. W., "to express my gratitude for the marvelous results my father has obtained from Kruschen Salts. He is 92 years old, and is as fit as a fiddle. He can get around easily, and even run up and downstairs. His friends marvel why it is he is always alert, and never feels listless. He always tells them the reason: 'My regular daily dose of Kruschen Salts in my first cup of tea every morning.'" (Mrs.) A. J. W.

Most people grow old long before their time because they neglect one vital need of health—the need for internal cleanliness.

Eventually they start the healthy Kruschen habit. Then, probably for the first time in their lives, they start getting rid every day of all waste matter from the system. Instead of being clogged the intestines are clean and clear. Instead of liver and kidneys being sluggish they are active and efficient. New, healthy blood goes coursing through the veins—carrying health and strength and energy to every part of the body. (Adv.)

Major Hockey Teams Set For Season Opening

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

SUPPORTERS of the city's two major soccer leagues, the Saturday and Wednesday circuits, are at it hot and heavy again, over which outfit will come out victor in the approaching inter-league playoffs for the Adams Cup. In the series to date the week-enders have always come out on top and their fans figure it will be just a repetition this season. The lads who back the mid-weekers are confident this will be the year they come into their own.

The Wednesday Leaguers have been trying for years to mark up a victory and demonstrate the high calibre of play in their organization. They have reason to feel jubilant this season. Included on their all-star lineup will be such well-known former Saturday players as Louis and Eddie DeCosta. The former was recognized as tops among the Saturday League goalies for several years, but now he wears the colors of the Navy in the other loop. His younger brother Eddie is also a member of the Navy eleven. In addition the Wednesday team will have three players, Alex. Ross and Bruce Robinson, both of the Navy, and Les Kennedy, Hudson's Bay, who were picked on the Victoria team to meet Charlton Athletic last summer.

However, the Saturday officials are not being kept awake nights worrying over their team. The first division will be able to field a well-balanced eleven for the cup series and with goal-scoring forwards such as Gordie Bell, George Payne and Noel Morgan on deck, clever halves like Roy Barnes, Glen and Cliff Robbins and Ronnie Williams and full-backs of the calibre of George Leggett and goalies like Wally Rowe and Tommy Restall available, the week-enders feel they need not worry about the outcome. Only time will give the result.

Here are a few sport ramblings: The new tennis pro at the Miami-Biltmore country club is Don Budge's big brother, Lloyd. Chief Little Wolf is traveling 10,766 miles—all the way from New Zealand—to fill a wrestling date with Bronko Nagurski at the Hippodrome tomorrow night. After a game played in the mud, Ray Larson, University of Detroit end, weighed his equipment—the scales showed 29 pounds. The same equipment dry would weigh less than 11 pounds.

There is a town named Ball Ground in Georgia. Michigan has a Base Line, Arkansas an Umpire, and Minnesota a Ball Club. Max Schmeling has just bought himself another 1,600-acre country estate. Joe Judge, former Washington baseball idol, is cleaning up in the restaurant business there and looks like a fixture as baseball coach at Georgetown University. The fistic firm of Petey Sarron and Jim Erwin made a big hit with the New York fight mob.

Four Clubs Play Tomorrow Night; All-Stars In Win

Rest of League Defeats Canadiens-Maroons in Morenz Benefit Clash

8,600 Attend

MONTREAL — Professional hockey tensed today for a season that will develop new stars and make old ones new again, that will reject ambitious youngsters and turn a few more fading veterans to the discard.

Four teams will see action tomorrow night as the N.H.L. opens another winter campaign. The draw for the opening is:

Detroit at Toronto.
New York Americans at Chicago.

And hockey will go on without Howie Morenz, flaming Howie who defied force and time and certain defeat in his dashes down the ice lanes. It won't be the same National League without Howie.

The league and Montreal's army of fans paid tribute to the glamorous Morenz last night in a gesture game to aid his widow and three children. Before 8,600 in the Forum's white light, a select National League force defeated a combination of Howie's old team, the Canadiens, and the club he delighted to play against, the Maroons.

CLOSE FINISH

The Stratford Streak, who died at the height of a comeback last winter, would have liked to have been around for a game like last night's, for the finish was close and Montreal was carrying all the play at the finish. The All-Stars, through an early advantage, managed to pull out with a 6 to 5 victory.

Morenz would have looked good out there with barging Babe Siebert and Black Cat Johnny Gagnon as they led Montreal's final drive. It netted three goals in less than three minutes and Montreal was still piling in on Normie Smith at the end.

The reverence in which Howie was held was noticeable everywhere.

A pleasing gesture was made by Joe Cattarino, once part owner of the Canadiens. He bought Howie's old equipment between periods for $500, then presented it to Morenz's son, Howie junior. Sale of other souvenirs helped swell the fund that will go to Morenz widow and three children.

GAGNON STARS

Gagnon, who played right wing beside the dashing Morenz, was a star in defeat. He scored twice and passed to Siebert for the goal that started the late Montreal rally.

Most of the greats and near-greats of the league were in the game to honor its most glamorous figure. Even King Clancy, (Turn to Page 13, Col. 4)

Alpines Have Smart Outfit

Chuck Durgan, one of the smartest basketball managers in Seattle, will be back in town Saturday with his Alpine Dairy squad for an exhibition engagement with the Dominos at the High School gym. A preliminary will start things off at 8.

According to word received by Wilf Ritchie, secretary of the Dominos, Durgan will bring over the following players: Bill Murphy, Chuck Wagner, Jack Gannon, Bob Egge, Tom Werner, Ray Williamson, Ralph Cairney and George Fredericks.

With such an array of stars Alpine should really give the Dominos plenty to think about when they step on the floor Saturday evening.

FISH QUESTION IS DISCUSSED

Cowichan Indians Tell Sportsmen Their Feud Is Not With Fishermen

Recent difficulties that have arisen over that portion of the Cowichan River that flows through the Cowichan Indian Reserve, which resulted in fishermen being refused permission to trespass on the reserve and to fish in the river, were discussed at an executive meeting of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association held last night.

Two representatives of the Cowichan Indians, Alfred Wilson and Henry Louie attended the meeting and clearly stated their side of the argument. They said they wanted to be on good terms with the fishermen as they had no personal feud with the anglers themselves.

The delegates pointed out that they were not getting fair treatment in connection with the quota of salmon they are allowed to take for their own use.

The executive assured the Indians they would look into the matter and attempt to bring about an amicable settlement.

It was decided to hold a general meeting during the week of November 15. The actual date and place of meeting has not been decided.

Roger Monteith was in the chair.

Another For Hostak

SEATTLE—Al Hostak, hard-hitting Seattle middleweight, scored his 11th straight knockout last night when he floored Irish Bob Turner of Richmond, Va., for the count in the second round of a scheduled 10-round main event. Hostak weighed 159 and Turner 156.

Start of Grand Pile-up in U.S. Football

There's the beginning of a grand pile-up of football players in this remarkable picture from the dramatic Carnegie Tech-Temple game at Philadelphia. The slippery ball has been fumbled by the Carnegie ball carrier. Both Walters of Temple, in light uniform, and Napotnik of Carnegie, left, lunge for the ball as Kopesak rushes up. Napotnik recovered the ball despite Walters' heroic effort to reach it without turning around. Temple won 7 to 6.

B.C. School Rugby Schedule Planned

Six Teams Expected to Compete in Tournament Here at End of Year

Half a dozen high school teams, and private school squads of similar rating will clash in the special junior rugby conference scheduled for Victoria at the end of December, if plans being laid by H. J. Ketchen, president of the Canadian union, are carried through.

Busy at present on the financial end of the venture, Mr. Ketchen has taken time out to send invitations to various centres requesting them to put teams in the series, which will be staged over the last four days of the year.

Victoria and Oak Bay high composites, a fifteen which showed up particularly well in the opening inter-high tournament in Vancouver last year, is expected to carry the hopes of this area. There is also a chance private schools will combine to enter an all-star aggregation.

Vancouver's high school league champion, winners of the New Zealand Cup, and a rep fifteen from the other teams in the circuit are virtually certain entries.

In addition, Ketchen has issued an invitation to Duncan and Nanaimo schools to send representatives to participate in the tournament and hopes to have two strong teams from those centres.

Highly satisfied with the popularity of the series as indicated by the response from those sources he had contacted, Ketchen looked forward to a successful schedule of games at the year end.

Rugby enthusiasts, seeing in the series a great opportunity to develop young talent and generally encourage the game in the high schools, have voiced their support for the event. Visiting players will be billeted here during the period.

According to an announcement made yesterday Victoria United will be in Vancouver on the holiday to meet St. Andrews in an Inter-city League match, while a second all-star eleven from the first division will meet the pick of the Wednesday League in the first game of the Ansonby series at the Athletic Park.

The two rep elevens will be selected at a meeting of the league to be held next Tuesday. In the meantime the Wednesday League officials will get together and select their eleven for the encounter.

A pair of league matches will be played on Saturday. The draw follows:

Victoria West vs. Saanich Thistles at Heywood Avenue. Referee, D. Swan.

Orillia Crowned Canadian Champs

Easterners Defeat Vancouver 12 to 9 For Junior Boxla Honors

TORONTO—Orillia Baby Terriers held the Canadian junior lacrosse championship today, their stormy five-game series with Vancouver Bluebirds completed by a strong comeback after dropping two straight games.

Terriers won the fifth game of the best-of-five series 12 to 9 here last night which, added to victories in the first two games, gave them the title. Bluebirds won the third and fourth games, forcing the fifth match here on neutral territory after the four games at Orillia.

Goalie Ray Mortimer was the backbone of the Terrier team, warding off Bluebird shots as the Terriers ganged up on Herb Delmonico in the Vancouver nets to lead from the start. With the victory went the Minto Cup, formerly in competition for professional teams, but idle since 1934 until the first of the east-west junior finals this year.

Top scoring Terrier was Mucker McWhinnie with six goals, three of them in the first period when Terriers outscored the Bluebirds 4 to 2. Orillia led 7 to 5 at half time and Bluebirds cut the lead to 9 to 8 at the three-quarter mark. The Orillia team outscored the coast players 3 to 1 in the last session.

Taller and heavier than the Orillia team, Bluebirds did not show the same speed that outmanoeuvred the Terriers in the fourth game. In the final game it was the Terriers who did the speedy work, slipping through the defence and faining shots on young Delmonico, who despite his good network was unable to keep them all out.

Irishman Meets Scot Saturday

That time-worn villain vs. hero play will be enacted again Saturday night as the main attraction on the Tillamook gym wrestling show. Donald McIntyre, the handsome, broad-shouldered Scot will play the role of the hero, while Patrick O'Shocker from Ireland will be his opponent. These two lads will grapple over the 10 six-minute-round route. Performers for the semi-main and special events will be booked later this week. The show will open at 8.45.

and select their eleven for the encounter.

The United will be after its first victory against the Saints. In its initial start in the league the United bowed before North Shore here 4 to 3 on Thanksgiving Day.

A pair of league matches will be played on Saturday. The draw follows:

Victoria West vs. Saanich Thistles at Heywood Avenue. Referee, D. Swan.

Esquimalt vs. Victoria City at Athletic Park. Referee, J. C. Dows.

Britain Now Has Hockey Nursery

LONDON—Sport fandom of Great Britain has been sold on hockey as played by imported Canadian athletes, but it may not be long before those same spectators will be watching young Britons provide the speedy entertainment.

Percy Nicklin, former coach of Moncton Hawks, Allan Cup winners in 1933 and 1934, is conducting a hockey nursery at Harrington for boys under 14 years. More than 150 youngsters are taking instructions from Nicklin and his assistants who are members of Harrington's two teams—Racers and Greyhounds.

Rugger Star Quits

WELLINGTON, N.Z.—P. J. Nel, captain of the South African rugby team that won two of three test matches on its tour of New Zealand, has decided to retire from the game.

The Trump Is Winner

FLEMINGTON, Australia (CP)—The Trump, starting at 11 to 2, yesterday won the Melbourne Cup over two miles, defeating a 40-to-1 chance, Willie Win, by a neck in the two-mile race. Sarcherie, another 40-to-1 shot, was third by a similar margin. The Trump recently won the Caulfield Cup, and in taking the Melbourne Cup, the Commonwealth's most important turf event, scored a notable double, especially as it had been thought

Townsend-Wallace Are Both Beaten

Hoopsters Meet At High Tonight

Highlighted by the appearance of Liberty Cafe and West Road, senior B quintettes in the final game, the Victoria and District Basketball League will present a programme at the High School gym this evening that has all the earmarks of being the season's best to date. The show will open at 7.15 with Gainers Superiors and Adverts, women's squads meeting. The second game will bring together Canadian, Scottish and Kingham-Gillespie, intermediate A boys.

Vancouver Fighters Lose to Luftspring and Carroll in Toronto Ring

TORONTO — Sammy Luftspring, a young Toronto welterweight who ranks third in that division in Canada, counted a technical knockout victory today over veteran Billy Townsend of Vancouver.

Luftspring, paced only behind champion Frankie Genovesi of Toronto and leading contender Senny Jones of Vancouver by the Canadian Boxing Federation, ended his scheduled 10-round bout last night with Townsend here 2.15 minutes after the start of the ninth round. In rounds previous to this, Townsend hit the canvas three times for long counts.

Townsend, who holds down the No. 6 slot among contenders for Genovesi's title, was only saved by the bell in the second round after being dropped for counts of nine and eight. He rallied in the succeeding rounds, making a great fight of it until the eighth, when Luftspring toppled him again for an eight count.

Luftspring, a Jewish lad fighting professionally for less than two years, went to work from the start of the ninth and soon had the coast fighter on the floor to be awarded the decision by Referee Herschel Osborne.

Eddie Carroll of Ottawa, by taking the unanimous decision from Gordon Wallace at Vancouver in the 10-round semi-final, gained third rating among contenders—behind Luftspring—in the welter class. Prior to the bout the C.B.F. had ruled that the winner would be third ranking contender, the loser fourth.

In preliminaries Matt Czanick of Pittsburgh knocked out Joe Tambe of Buffalo in 2.30 in the fifth round; Norman Hurdman of Toronto scored a technical knockout over Bobby Woods of Fall River, B.C., and Tommy Sciolino of Buffalo took the decision from George Bland of Toronto.

SCHOLARSHIP IS PRESENTED

William Petrie Receives Annual Kiwanis Club Bursary

William Petrie, 26-year-old president of the Student Council of Victoria College, was yesterday presented with the Kiwanis Club's 17th annual scholarship.

The presentation was made by J. B. Clearhough, K.C., at the club's luncheon in the Empress Hotel. Present at the ceremony were Mr. Petrie's brother, Robert M. Petrie, a former scholarship winner who is now on the staff of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, and his father, James Petrie.

Mr. Clearhough spoke of the uniform success of previous Kiwanis scholarship winners. Of the 11 who were of an age to receive post-graduate degrees, seven had been awarded their doctorates, all in some branch of science.

The scholarships, he said, were not awarded on academic merit alone, but also on the qualities of character and leadership displayed during the student's college career.

Professor Percy Elliott, principal of the college, paid tribute to the ability, tenacity of purpose and sterling character of the honored student.

COLLEGE REPUTATION

Victoria College was almost better known in the east than in Victoria, he said. At McGill,

Toronto and Queens it had a reputation out of all proportion to its size.

"The fact is that the average level of the homes in this city is high. Boys and girls come from good stock and stable homes, and that is reflected in their success," he said. He also attributed a part of this success to the excellent work of the high and junior schools of Victoria and its surrounding municipalities.

Mr. Petrie, thanking the club for the honor bestowed on him, paid tribute to the Kiwanis for the work they were doing in promoting education. He also brought the thanks of the Student Council for their help to the college.

Fraser Lister entertained the club with two songs.

Walter M. Walker, the president, was in the chair.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1937

Benefic aspects rule strongly on this day, which should be wisely employed. It is a favorable day for consulting physicians and preparing for winter activities by establishing good health.

The planetary government encourages commerce and seems to pressure much secret traffic as well as general trade. Exports of goods as well as increased exports of food are prognosticated.

Housewives should expect sharp rise in the cost of living. Economy in daily menus should be scientifically studied. Good luck attends buying of every sort while this configuration prevails. It is a favorable day for shopping. Modistes will enjoy a revival of activity.

Originality in dress is to be widely demanded for the winter. There will be many brilliant social events. Noted men and women will be entertained on both the Atlantic and the Pacific Coasts.

Through ambitious projects labor is to profit at this time when constructive work of many sorts will be undertaken. Rife among union organizations are to extend in surprising directions.

Again the counsel of the aged will be sought in direful great and small. It may be of great importance in Washington, D.C., and certain state capitals.

War influences will be strong in Russia, where the death of a prominent man will affect Soviet policies. Italy and Japan continue to cause the world many anxieties.

Persons whose birthdays it is have the augury of a year of creditable work. Changes may affect certain business men. Women should avoid litigation.

Children born on this day may be frank and outspoken. Subjects of this sign usually are logical and well poised.

Stephen J. Field, one-time justice of the United States Supreme Court, was born on this day, 1818. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Edmund Keene, tragic actor, 1787, and John Neagle, portrait painter, 1796.

WHITE CANES

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—All blind persons in London are to be provided with white canes as a means of identification. It is believed the white canes will make the users more conspicuous in traffic and that it will be easier for motorists to see them. The plan will be given a two-month trial.

HOUSING NEED CLAIM ARGUED

Mrs. Steeves Criticizes Cabins in Victoria

Even Victoria had need of better housing facilities, Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, said yesterday in the provincial Legislature.

She told of the Blanshard cabins, near where she lived, and described the living conditions of its occupants. She called the cabins one-room tenements; said they would burn like matchboxes, that there was one tap for every six tenants and that they had no lights or inside sanitary conveniences and generally "were places where animals shouldn't be housed."

People who needed new homes could not be helped by the Dominion Housing Act, she said. She advised the government, with government money, to go into the housing business, Canada, she said, lagged far behind the countries of Europe in that respect. In British Columbia, she said, the cost of land was no problem, and she saw no reason why every person should not have a decent home.

COWARDLY RETREAT

Speaking of a recent government order setting up a minimum wage for the building trades and later canceled, Mrs. Steeves said: "I have nothing but contempt for a Board of Relations that will give an order and then make a cowardly retreat."

The capitalist system, she said, regarded working people as bits of machinery, either to be discarded or to be oiled up and repaired, if they could still give good service.

She spoke of the necessity to abolish the Privy Council. She said the Privy Council had no knowledge of Canadian courts and cared less. The B.N.A. Act, she said, met the needs of 19th century capitalism.

The old-time parties, Mrs. Steeves said, always went back to their old game of shadow-boxing. Both supported the same vested interests. "This government supports business—big business—not people."

The retail sales tax, she said, was a tax on the poor consumer, a tax that ground down the poor people. No one, she said, had a good word to say of it; everyone condemned it.

"There is no use in having petty adjustments to your Dominion provincial relations—what you need is something that will serve human needs," she said.

North Vancouver, she said, was practically under a dictatorship, and it was difficult to get a job "if you do not belong to the faithful." All the good jobs were handed out to Liberal supporters.

She made a plea for the establishment of a domestic relations court, in which all matters pertaining to the family, such as separation, divorce, family disagreements, non-support, alimony, custody of children and maintenance of illegitimate children, could be taken up. She said the traffic in women and children was caused by poverty and ignorance, the latter being the child of poverty. Prostitutes, she said, were not criminals, but victims.

PLAN LIGHTING FOR CHRISTMAS

Junior Chamber to Promote Illumination of Residential Areas

Victoria's residential districts will be a blaze of colored light at Christmas-time, if plans being laid by the Junior Chamber of Commerce are put into full effect.

A special committee, headed by J. Barraclough, has been appointed to promote the illumination of homes and gardens, and a prize will be offered for the best display.

The plans envisage strings of colored lights on trees and shrubs, illumination of the fronts of houses and such special decorations as Christmas silhouettes and floodlit masses of balloons. The British Columbia Electric Railway Company is offering its full co-operation in arranging for the illuminations.

Last year some half-dozen houses in Victoria were decked with light in this manner. It is hoped that this year there will be several hundreds.

SCORES FALSE TALK ON ROADS

R. H. Carson Says Criticism Injures Motor Tourist Traffic

Charging that false Conservative propaganda during the election campaign condemning the road system of British Columbia had been a detriment to tourist traffic, R. H. Carson, Liberal, Kamloops, declared in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday that an enormous amount of fine work had been done on the highways in the last three years.

"If the truth had been told by the Tories," he said, "from Vancouver to Kamloops 75 per cent of the road is now surfaced. It is a wonderful drive through the canyon and cannot be duplicated for scenic grandeur."

Mr. Carson took issue with the two Victoria Conservative members who had demanded more government aid for municipalities declaring it was incredible, in view of their statements, that they could support the party which had slashed municipal grants. Removal of the social service charges by the government last year had saved Kamloops three mills.

The speaker complimented the administration on allowing farmers to work out their tax arrears. It was a big help in his riding, and he hoped the policy would continue. He told the House of the celebration of Kamloops 125th anniversary this year, urged support for the Junior Fish and Game Club movement, and attributed the serious effects of unemployment to the influx of men from other provinces.

His conclusion was a tribute to Premier Pattullo, whose untiring efforts, he said, had put British Columbia leading Canada back to prosperity, and was pleased to note that he had recently been honored by the university.

French Senator Called By Death

PARIS (AP)—Senator Joseph Paganon, 53, a member of seven cabinets, died of heart disease at his Paris home Monday night.

Mr. Paganon, one of the leaders of the Radical-Socialist Party, was an undersecretary in 1933 in the Herriot cabinet, and subsequently served under Premier Daladier (twice), Sarraut, Chautemps, Bouisson and Laval.

He had represented the Isere department in the Senate since 1935.

Extra Five-cent Gas Tax Urged

C. H. Tupper Says Money Would Finance Road Surfacing

An extra five cents a gallon tax on gasoline for four or five years, earmarked to provide funds for hard-surfacing roads, was advocated in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday by C. H. Tupper, Liberal, Similkameen.

This would increase the tax on gasoline from 7 to 12 cents a gallon, but, said Mr. Tupper, he believed the report of Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald's fuel commission now in the government's hands might show that the price of gasoline should be considerably lower. The extra tax might be thus imposed without any additional burden on the public.

"I'm a firm believer that those who use the roads should pay for their construction. There is no question that without money we can't have the roads we want."

"As a matter of fact, the five-cent tax would mean no more than 1 cent a mile extra in driving costs and the toll on the average car driving on gravel roads now is no less than that."

Mr. Tupper said if the money were spent in the same way that the government has been spending funds for surfacing, a programme of a few years' duration would do the necessary work.

To this he added a plea for completion of the Hope-Princeton highway. Of the 86-mile stretch, 64 miles are opened for good weather driving, and he hoped the last link would proceed faster.

Road Surfacing Is Extended

Expenditures on B.C. Highways Last Year Over $4,000,000

In British Columbia's highway system now there are 20,171 miles of roads, of which 956 miles are hard surfaced, according to the annual Department of Public Works report tabled in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday by Hon. Frank M. MacPherson, the minister. The total mileage includes 6,087 miles of trunk and main highways, 5,458 miles of local roads, and 8,626 miles of industrial roads.

The surfaced portion, mainly on trunk highways, is made up of 43.64 miles of portland cement, 69.43 miles of asphaltic concrete, 49.36 miles of penetration macadam, 343.62 miles of mulch and 449.62 miles of bituminous spray coat.

Last year 132.8 miles were hard surfaced. Of this 5.93 miles was on the Trans-Canada Highway route, 53.37 miles on the southern trans-provincial highway, 9.79 miles on the Okanagan Highway, 12.4 miles on the Island Highway, 8.7 miles on the Canadian Highway, 13.7 miles on the Loughheed Highway and 22.86 miles on other roads.

In addition improvement work, involving some major reconstruction projects, was done over a distance of 1,153 miles of roads and trails.

Arthur Dixon, chief engineer, says in his comments, that last year the stage was reached in the road improvement programme where improvement or reconstruction, prior to surfacing, assumed more importance than actual surfacing, having regard to the policy of the department to defer surfacing until the road had been brought up standard in width, gradient and alignment.

Total expenditures last year on British Columbia roads were $4,072,223, exclusive of work done by men working out their relief allowances. These costs were divided as follows: $1,432,633 under the Dominion-provincial road construction agreement, $361,845 for mining roads, $200,000 for park roads, $302,890 for work done by single unemployed, and $1,774,848 in the ordinary district road maintenance.

Esquimalt Case Hearing Ended

Judgment Reserved By Judge Shandley in Hodgson Vs. Erick Action

Judgment was reserved by Judge H. H. Shandley in the Esquimalt case of T. H. Hodgson against James Erick as F. C. Elliott and F. L. Shaw, counsel for defendant and plaintiff, respectively, completed their arguments in County Court today.

Further evidence was heard from James Erick, defendant in the action in which plaintiff Hodgson claims $152 allegedly due him on what he claims was a loan. A counter claim has been laid by Erick for $28, an amount defendant claims he was required to pay on insurance premiums not met by the plaintiff.

In his testimony today Erick stated Hodgson had insisted that he, Erick, run in an Esquimalt election. Hodgson had offered to meet the expenses, witness said. The sum of $200 was transferred from Hodgson to Erick.

Erick, in reply to questions, stated he had at no time asked Hodgson for a gift and had never offered to pay back the money. The money, Erick said, was given to him in a downtown office. He had devoted part of it to paying up his back taxes on the day he took out nomination papers, he said.

Evidence was given by Erick that he had received a cheque for $400 from Hodgson to cover certain insurance premiums. When he received it, he said it had not been marked "payment in full" for the premiums.

Those words appeared on the cheque when it came before the court as an exhibit.

Fire Equipment Tenders Called

Oak Bay Council Confers With Underwriters and Architect

Tenders for two pumper trucks and sundry other equipment for its new fire department will be called by the Oak Bay Council immediately, the council decided yesterday after a meeting with representatives of the fire underwriters.

Applications for the position of fire chief are being called for, and will close Friday, November 12, in time for consideration at a regular council meeting that night.

The council met in committee in the Pemberton Building yesterday and conferred with Douglas A. S. McGregor, district manager of the British Columbia Insurance Underwriters' Association; F. Ferris Dowling, Vancouver, chief engineer of the association, and P. Leonard James, architect.

Final decision on the style of the fire hall to be erected at the junction of Monterey Avenue and St. Ann Street will depend on the estimated cost of construction, although a Tudor type is favored. The council and the underwriters came to an agreement on the main equipment to be purchased, and it was provided that the pumpers, to be of 600-gallon capacity, must pass the 12-hour test of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

The third piece of motor equipment is expected to be a stand-alone roadster, or coupe, with a small truck body built at the back to carry hose and chemical equipment.

The star Arcturus is 11,000,000 times farther away from the earth than the sun.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The city fire department was called out late last night by a false alarm from a box at the corner of Frances Avenue and Burnside Road.

Members of Ward Five Liberal Association will meet at 7.30 tonight and not 8 o'clock as usual, for the purpose of electing delegates to the nominating convention.

A car owned by A. V. King, 710 Yates Street, stolen from the corner of Yates and Broad Streets yesterday morning was found abandoned on McClure Street in the afternoon, according to a police report.

A car driven by B. Best, 1654 Yale Street, was considerably damaged when it was involved in a collision with a truck driven by Lee Quah, Chinese, 549 Cormorant Street, at the corner of Yates and Blanshard Streets shortly after 8 this morning. The truck was undamaged.

A meeting of the Anti-vivisectionists' Society will be held at the Y.W.C.A. on Saturday evening next at 8.15, when Dr. Ernest Fewster will speak on "My Objections to Vivisection." David Leeming will preside. Vocal numbers will be contributed by Kathleen Lavell, accompanied by Ethel James.

Seven fines, totaling $32.50, were imposed by Magistrate Henry Hall in City Police Court this morning for traffic violations. There were five cases of failing to stop at stop signs, one of failing to produce a driver's license, and one of parking over a property line. A number of similar cases are pending.

The District Council of the Victoria C.C.F. will meet at headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow, with delegates from all clubs in the city to form a campaign committee. Nominations will close tonight, and it is expected the name of the candidates for the forthcoming by-election will be announced immediately following the meeting tomorrow evening.

An unusually interesting group of soloists has been secured for the fourth annual performance of the "Messiah" by the Victoria Choral and Orchestral Union at Christ Church Cathedral on December 8 next. "A Cruise Through British Columbia Waters" will form the subject of a lecture, which will be beautifully illustrated by colored moving pictures, to be given by Rev. Alan Green of the Columbia Coast (Medical) Mission tomorrow evening at 8, in the Memorial Hall, Vancouver Street. The pictures cover fully the scenic beauty of the Gulf waters as well as showing the need for such work as carried on by the mission.

Captain the Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, will be interviewed on the Japanese timber question by the Provincial Command, Vancouver, and the Victoria District Council of the Canadian Legion, when he visits the city in the near future. It was decided at a general meeting of the Britannia Branch last night to ask these bodies to work in conjunction on the interview. Members of the unit will participate in the Memorial Day parade and church service at Christ Church Cathedral next Sunday afternoon.

An executive meeting of the Pro Patria Branch is scheduled for next Monday and a general meeting will be held on the following night. Both will start at 8.

B.C.E.R. Head To Attend Meeting

W. G. Murrin, President of Company, to Meet City Council November 16

Arrangements have been made for a conference with W. G. Murrin, president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, on Tuesday afternoon, November 16, it was announced today by Alderman Archie Willis, chairman of the B.C. Electric Railway franchise committee, of the City Council.

The franchise committee has held several meetings with A. T. Goward, vice-president and general manager in Victoria of the B.C. Electric, seeking to determine what plans the company may have for light, power and transportation in this city. At the last meeting between the two parties the hope was expressed that before the middle of this month the company would make some statement to the city. Mr. Goward has arranged for Mr. Murrin to come to the city on November 16.

Ald. Willis announced that the whole City Council will sit in on the conference. The franchise committee consists of Ald. Willis with Mayor McGavin and Aldermen T. W. Hawkins and L. W. Morgan, but the chairman feels the franchise question is of such importance to the city that he has asked all members of the council to attend.

Health Apathy Is Deplorable

Says Hon. G. M. Weir in Addressing Convention of B.C. Hospital Association

"In British Columbia there is an ignorance, apathy, indifference and carelessness to health matters that is deplorable. The cost of health and welfare service is now $3,500,000, and at the present rate of increase it will be $7,000,000 in 10 years' time," said Hon. George M. Weir, Minister of Education and Provincial Secretary, in an address of welcome at the opening of the 20th annual convention of the B.C. Hospital Association in the Empress Hotel this morning.

Dr. Weir compared health services with those of Great Britain, showing how far B.C. was behind the Old Country in general development of health services. "With Alderman Ed. Williams, acting for Mayor McGavin, Dr. Weir extended an official welcome to the delegates. Dr. Weir expressed his appreciation of the humanitarian work which the association was doing, particularly from an economic standpoint. He realized the association was endeavoring to administer hospitals for the common good without impairing efficiency and getting away from the parochial outlook.

Dr. Weir referred to the public health crusade at present in progress in Great Britain, quoting an address by Prime Minister Chamberlain, in which he said the important thing to do was to educate the public to services available for treating sickness. During the six months' campaign, each month was being devoted to a different subject, Dr. Weir noted.

Among these was the stimulation of physical development, information on which had been supplied Great Britain by B.C. two years ago when the province had pioneered this type of work. Alderman Williams, speaking for the city, said he and his council were naturally interested in hospitals, having contributed $56,500 in lieu of the 70 cents per diem charge to the Jubilee Hospital last year, and had also made a grant to St. Joseph's Hospital.

The report of the secretary-treasurer was presented by J. H. McVety, Vancouver. The offices of Capitol Iron and Metals Limited, Store Street, were broken into and ransacked last night. The only loot obtained was an interoffice loud-speaking telephone machine.

Detective Walter Calwell, who attended, found entrance had been gained by forcing a window facing the street.

Two cases of rooms being entered, one involving theft of money, were reported to police early this morning from Brevin House, Pandora Avenue. Drawers and cupboards were rifled and $18 in cash was stolen from the room of John W. Rawlinson by thieves who apparently gained entry with a pass key. The room of Mrs. V. Colebourne was also ransacked, but nothing was taken.

H. C. FRASER PASSES AWAY

School Inspector and Former Presbyterian Minister Succumbs

Harry C. Fraser, Provincial Government Inspector of Schools and a former minister of the Presbyterian Church, died last night in St. Joseph's Hospital. He is survived by his widow and one son, John, at the family residence, 18 Wellington Avenue, and one daughter, Dorothy, in the Cariboo. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mr. Fraser was born in New Brunswick in 1879. He entered the Presbyterian ministry, having pastored in his native province and in the Fraser Valley until he retired to enter the teaching profession. He was on the public school staff in Vancouver and later became principal of Chilliwack High School. In 1921 he was appointed provincial government inspector of public and high schools at Prince Rupert, remaining there until 1930. During that year he became inspector for Oak Bay, Esquimalt, the Gulf Islands and the southern part of Vancouver Island.

The chief forester said he would like to see groups of seed trees left, and he thought some arrangement could be reached between the government and the companies to this effect. It would cost $10 an acre to plant certain barren areas in the province, he said. There were 500,000 acres, the cost of which, at that rate, would be $5,000,000. Mr. Manning said his department was trying to avoid such a cost.

He said burning of slash should be planned ahead, which would cost money and require men, but he said it was a natural hazard of logging, the companies created it, and it was up to them to look after it.

"The only cheap way of reforestation," Mr. Manning said, "is natural regeneration, and that involves the companies assuming their responsibilities, and the public also."

EDUCATION ON CREDIT URGED

Education of the public against too long credit terms for its own benefit as well as for that of merchants was urged by members of the Credit Granters' Association at a luncheon in Spencer's dining room yesterday. The discussion arose out of a report by a special committee appointed to study the question of long-term credit, a matter which is receiving attention from credit men across the Dominion. Heads of the credit departments of a number of businesses in the city expressed the opinion the buyer suffered as much through exaggerated terms as the merchant. It was suggested that the advantages of larger down payments in shortening terms should be stressed to public and merchants alike.

FIVE SEEKING COUNCIL SEATS

Ex-Alderman Walter Luney Returns to Lists; Alderman T. W. Hawkins Entered

Four sitting aldermen and one former council member were in the field for re-election in December today when Walter Luney announced his intention of seeking return to public office after a year's retirement. His announcement followed shortly that of Alderman T. W. Hawkins, chairman of the 75th anniversary, the street lighting and the decorations and illuminations committees.

Previously announced were Aldermen Ed. Williams, S. H. Okell and R. A. C. Dewar. Mr. Luney retired from the council at the end of last year, after an active term as chairman of the fire wardens and a member of other committees.

Since his departure from the council he has maintained an active interest in several of the city's organizations and makes his return to the civic arena no stranger to Victoria's voting public.

ACTIVE COMMITTEEMAN

Alderman Hawkins, in addition to being chairman of three committees, has also served this year on the finance and legislative, water, relief, B.C. Electric franchise, Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committees, and the executive of the public works group. Alderman Hawkins is also a member of the court of revision on the assessment roll and voters' list.

In addition to directing the city's celebration of its 75th anniversary, he has devoted much of his time this year to a change in the street lighting system which will provide better service at reduced rates in future years.

Forest Saving Plans Offered

Manning Favors Saving Young Growth and Careful Slash Disposal

Increased protection to young forest growth, the cost to be shared by the government and the lumber industry and more careful disposal of slash were recommended to the forestry committee of the Provincial Legislature this morning by E. C. Manning, chief forester, as two important steps in saving the forests of British Columbia for posterity. No progress would be made, however, Mr. Manning said, until solid public opinion was behind such a scheme.

Control of waste was also necessary, he said, especially on the coast. More waste was left on the ground in coast regions than was logged in the interior. R. W. Bruhn asked if logging companies on the coast ran things more in their own way than companies in the interior. Mr. Manning said he thought they did.

The chief forester said he would like to see groups of seed trees left, and he thought some arrangement could be reached between the government and the companies to this effect. It would cost $10 an acre to plant certain barren areas in the province, he said. There were 500,000 acres, the cost of which, at that rate, would be $5,000,000. Mr. Manning said his department was trying to avoid such a cost.

He said burning of slash should be planned ahead, which would cost money and require men, but he said it was a natural hazard of logging, the companies created it, and it was up to them to look after it.

"The only cheap way of reforestation," Mr. Manning said, "is natural regeneration, and that involves the companies assuming their responsibilities, and the public also."

Thieves Enter Two Premises

The offices of Capitol Iron and Metals Limited, Store Street, were broken into and ransacked last night. The only loot obtained was an interoffice loud-speaking telephone machine.

Detective Walter Calwell, who attended, found entrance had been gained by forcing a window facing the street.

Two cases of rooms being entered, one involving theft of money, were reported to police early this morning from Brevin House, Pandora Avenue. Drawers and cupboards were rifled and $18 in cash was stolen from the room of John W. Rawlinson by thieves who apparently gained entry with a pass key. The room of Mrs. V. III—A WRITER OF PLAYS

Among the plays I have seen in Stratford-on-Avon is "King Lear." It is one of Shakespeare's famous tragedies. The part of King Lear was taken by Randle Ayrton, a famous actor. On that night he gave what may be his last performance on the stage. He has started a school to train young actors and actresses.

A scene in a theatre of Shakespeare's time (From an old print).

Shakespeare himself was an actor. His work on the stage commenced after he went to London.

Young Shakespeare's trip to London probably was made on foot. We may picture him tramping along the old-time dirt roads for a distance of 100 miles from Stratford to London. A week or more may have been spent on the journey.

Perhaps the young man's thoughts were bitter as he walked toward England's largest city. There was reason for him to be unhappy over having to leave his home town. He was only 22 years of age, however, and he may have felt better when his mind turned to the future.

After arriving in London, he obtained work. Legend says he held horses for people who drove to the theatres which were outside the city limits.

Before long, Shakespeare was given work inside a theatre. His first task was to act as a prompter. He whispered words to actors who forgot their lines.

At a later time, he was allowed to take part in plays. Queen Elizabeth saw him on the stage, and he was one of the actors invited to give plays in the queen's palace at Greenwich. More important was Shakespeare's part in changing the lines of plays.

He put old plays together in a new way—with the hope that the audience would like them better. As years passed, he wrote plays of his own. They were acted on the stage, and were very successful.

Millions of people living today have studied Shakespeare's plays. They are looked upon as the greatest in the English language.

Among the famous works of Shakespeare are "Hamlet," "Macbeth," "Midsummer Night's Dream," "The Merchant of Venice," and "Romeo and Juliet." Some of these have been produced as talking-pictures. What would the poet say if he could come back to life and see his plays on the screen?

Poor Boy Rich Girl; What Happens?

Dorothy Dix

Love Doesn't Run Smoothly

HEAVEN KNOWS MARRIAGE is full enough of complications for all who have the hardihood to enter into the holy estate, but it never presents so many insoluble problems to which no one knows the answer as it does when a poor young man marries a rich girl.

Of course, if the man is a fortune-hunter who marries a girl merely for her money, the situation is simplified. He automatically becomes just a household pet who eats out of his wife's hand and fetches and carries for her, and whom she leads around on a leash until she loses her taste for him and decides that she would rather have another breed of lap dog. Something imported, perhaps, or at any rate with more pep and a new line of tricks.

But the male gold-digger is such a rare bird in these parts that the possession of a fortune is a handicap rather than a help to a girl in getting a husband. Poor girls have more attention from men than rich girls, and there is no other class of women among whom there are so many old maids as among the millionaires.

Such being the case, we are not concerned in this discussion with the parasite men who sell themselves for a living or the silly women who buy them, but with the honest-hearted girls and boys who meet and fall in love with each other and marry without a thought of the wife being rich and the husband poor making any difference, and then find that the wife's holding the pocketbook becomes the major issue of their lives and one with which they do not know how to cope.

Take the case—and there are thousands of them—of a fine, intelligent, upstanding youth who has just got a start in his business or profession. He is talented and ambitious and knows it is in him to go far. He is proud that he has made his way for himself and that he can stand on his own feet. But his earnings are small, about enough to support an industrious hen who would do her part of the scratching, but far inadequate to provide a cage for a Bird of Paradise.

Then on some unlucky day he encounters a glamorous young creature who is all that he had ever imagined his Dream Girl would be. She is equally swept off her feet by him, and the only obstacle in the path of their romance is her money. She is rich and he is poor, but she waves all of that aside with a grand gesture. What is money compared to love? All that she has will be his. And when he explains that his self-respect would not let him become a pensioner upon his wife and that all of his hopes and ambitions are wrapped up in his work, she offers to go and live with him in a two-by-four flat or a vine-wreathed cottage in the country and do her own housework. Anywhere, anything with him.

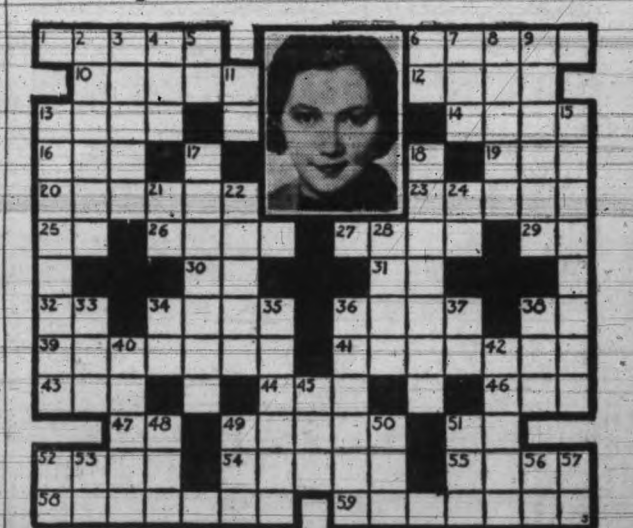

And so they are married and for a while little Mrs. Poorman (nee Millionbucks) has a grand time playing living on her husband's shoe-string salary. Then she tires of the game and wants to go back to the luxuries to which she has been accustomed. She wants to travel. What's the good of John sticking in that horrid old office and working himself to death when they could go and see all the wonderful things in the world and have such a grand time playing together?

Why should they live in a stuffy little house when they can afford a palace? Why shouldn't John relinquish the measly business he has built up for himself and let Papa give him a place in the bank? Why should John do anything at all but play around with her? Why, indeed, except that if she makes John give up the work that he has planned to do all of his life and fitted himself to do; if she turns him into a loafer and an idler; if she makes him one of Papa's yes-yes men who are handed out cheques they have never earned, she will have killed what was best and finest in him. No matter how much he loves her, in his secret soul he will harbor a grudge against her for what she has done to him.

Yet the rich wife has some justification on her part. For why should she be denied the things she wants and that she has the money to pay for just to save her husband's pride? It doesn't make sense to ride in a flivver when you have a limousine standing idle in the garage. What about her pride as well as his?

Heavy Gale Struck Jefferson Offshore

TINY CRAFT TO GIRDLE WORLD

Shelburne Ketch to Sail
From Nova Scotia to England via Pacific

SHELburne, N.S. (CP)—Shelburne residents declared this little Nova Scotia seaport has the finest harbor in the world, and few of them did not line it to see the launching of the Naomi, stout 37-foot ketch designed and built for Charles Cox, English sportsman. The little craft is to be sailed through the Pacific ocean, the Suez Canal and the Mediterranean before her owner-navigator finally lands in England.

The mahogany hull was designed by "Bill" Roue, Halifax marine architect, well known among the world's yachtsmen. She has a 10-foot beam and draws six and one-half feet. Her sail area is 760 feet, 610 working and 150 topsail. She is powered by a 20 horsepower motor.

The little ship has a four-ton keel. She is trimmed with oak, and has the latest and most complete electric plant and plumbing. During the coming winter, she will cruise among the Florida keys and later the Bahamas, finally going through the Panama Canal and starting on her long journey to England.

One-half of the shade trees of New England are elms.

Ship's Furniture Lashed Down to Prevent Damage As Seas Swept Decks

Everything movable aboard the American Mail liner President Jefferson was lashed securely to the decks when she docked here early today, testifying to the rough passage experienced on the inbound trip from the Orient.

Lounges, chairs and tables in the ship's public rooms were kept in place by heavy cord, and in the dining rooms the racks were used on the tables to keep the tableware from slipping into the laps of the passengers who experienced difficulty in getting about the ship during the height of the storm.

It was on Sunday last that the Jefferson was hit by gale weather and the heavy southeaster made things tough for her up to the time Vancouver Island landfall was made.

The ship suffered no damage. Travelers told of being thrown across their staterooms with their personal belongings littered in confusion around them as the ship labored in the storm.

"We had quite a blow, but we naturally expect that at this time of the year," was the tenor of the officers' replies when they were questioned about the gale.

RODE OUT TYPHOONS

"You should have been with us in the typhoons that we bucked in the China seas," they invariably chorused.

Three times the Jefferson ran into stiff typhoons in Oriental waters, the worst being off Hong Kong on her homeward voyage, when she was hove-to for 30 hours off Waiying Island.

Capt. John Griffith was so tired when he had safely berthed his ship at Pier Two at 2:30 this morning that he went right to bed and left a note pinned to the panel of his cabin stating that under no circumstances was he to be disturbed.

But for the storm she encountered off this coast the Jefferson would have made port yesterday afternoon.

HEAVIEST CARGO

The ship arrived deeply laden with cargo, there being over 7,000 tons in her holds. Passengers' baggage was stacked on deck this morning to permit the long-shoring crews to get at the freight.

For Seattle the liner carried 5,199 tons of cargo, while the Victoria freighter amounted to 2,033 tons, the largest yet put ashore here by a vessel of the American Mail Line.

When the gangs quit work late this forenoon the big warehouse at Pier Two, Rithet Docks, was bulging with merchandise. The crush was so great that there was no room for automobiles in the shed.

Of the freight put ashore here today the chief consignments were 645 measurement tons of Japanese toys, 441 cases of electrical goods, 120 tons of cotton goods, 180 tons of lily bulbs, 256 tons of porcelain and earthenware, 155 packages of raw silk, 65 packages of silk goods and 41 tons of Mandarin oranges, the first of the season's shipments from Japan for the Christmas markets. The oranges landed here totaled 2,000 bundles, or 4,000 boxes.

Passengers aboard the ship totaled 128 first and tourist class, including three firsts, who disembarked here.

The President Jefferson left about 11 o'clock for Seattle.

SEATTLE (AP) — Hearing on the Alaska Steamship Company's petition for limitation of liability in connection with the ill-fated steamship Denali, lost on a British Columbia reef May 19, 1933, was resumed before U.S. Judge John C. Bowen yesterday.
